

Nepal death toll crosses 1,000 as rescue race to find survivors

Police forced to resort to mass burials; rescue operations stuck due to weather conditions

KATHMANDU

RESCUE teams with search dogs continued to search through mud, rocks and debris on Tuesday on the border with Nepal and China for thousands of people still missing following the catastrophic floods that tore through communities across the Himalayas, leaving more than 1,000 dead.

As police in Kathmandu buried dozens of bodies in multiple trenches, Nepal's disaster agency said that 1,003 deaths had been counted there, with 3,916 people missing, including 583 foreign nationals. In its latest update, China reported 16 deaths and 546 missing, including 261 foreigners.

The scale of the Aug. 26 disaster is hampering rescue efforts in both countries, with landslides, destroyed roads and widespread damage cutting off remote areas. Crews faced challenges in both countries, with landslides, destroyed roads and widespread damage cutting off remote areas. ling conditions as they searched amidst terrain and piles of debris, raising fears the death toll could rise as rescuers reach isolated communities. Rescuers are racing to reach hundreds of workers believed to be trapped inside tunnels at hydropower projects in Nepal damaged by the floods. About 900 workers are missing from 12 projects, with roughly 500 believed to be trapped in tunnels, according to local authorities. Brigadier General Raja Ram Basnet, Nepal's army spokesman, said teams assisted by foreign experts were working at several hydropower projects. Images released by the army showed rescue teams entering debris-filled tunnels and wading through mud and water in the search for signs of life.

On the Chinese side, rescue crews scoured areas hit by mudslides, particularly around the Gyeong Port border crossing, which was destroyed. In Kathmandu, police buried dozens of bodies in trenches next to a forested area. Barbed wire was erected around the site, while blue markers identified graves of people whose names were not yet known. At least 11,814 people have been rescued so far, according to Nepalese authorities. Efforts are being stepped up on to provide assistance to survivors in areas where transportation routes had been damaged or cut off.

US attacks Guards hours after Iran's talks of ceasefire

MOSCOW

IRAN's president said Tuesday his country is ready to return to the ceasefire deal reached with the United States in June in Washington, but the army, in conciliatory remarks following the first exchange of fire between the two countries in a month. Hours later in the evening, US forces launched strikes against Iran's Revolutionary Guards in response to attempted attacks on commercial shipping and American forces, the US military said.

The strikes, which began at 1600 GMT, came after "recent attempted attacks by (the Guards) against commercial shipping in the Strait of Hormuz and against American service members deployed to the region," US Central Command said on X.

Speaking on the sidelines of the Shanghai Cooperation Organisation summit in Kyrgyzstan, Iran's President Masoud Pezeshkian said that "if the US returns to its commitments in the memorandum of understanding, the Islamic Republic of Iran will immediately reciprocate," Iranian state media reported.

guzistan, Iran's President Masoud Pezeshkian said that "if the US returns to its commitments in the memorandum of understanding, the Islamic Republic of Iran will immediately reciprocate," Iranian state media reported.

The June memorandum of understanding called for an immediate ceasefire and started a 60-day period for negotiations aimed at reaching a wider peace deal. Iran agreed to close the Strait of Hormuz of mines and allow ships to pass during the period, and the US agreed to end its naval blockade, lift sanctions, issue waivers for Iranian oil exports and begin work on a reconstruction package for Iran, among other things. The agreement broke down about the Trump administration in public before his private meeting with Russia's Vladimir Putin. "Unfortunately, they claim to be law-abiding, and the things they are doing are not documented in any framework that can be relied upon," AP

We must stop external forces from interference: China's Prez Xi

MOSCOW: Chinese President Xi Jinping on Tuesday called on the members of the Shanghai Cooperation Organisation (SCO) to make security a key priority and crack down on terrorism, separatism and extremism, transnational organised crimes, drug trafficking and telecom fraud. SCO member states include China, Russia, India, Iran, Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, Pakistan, Tajikistan, Uzbekistan and Belarus. In a veiled criticism of the United States, Xi said in his concluding note, "We must prevent external forces from interfering in our internal affairs, endangering security, and undermining regional stability." "We should stay committed to taking security as a key goal, and foster an environment of common security. We should pursue coordinated measures to tackle traditional and non-traditional security threats," Xi said while addressing the SCO summit.
