'Congress is my community,' says DK amid dark horse buzz

VIBHA SHARMA

New Delhi, 28 November

mid talk of a "community-power ed" leadership with Karnataka CM Siddaramaiah and a possible "dark horse" on the horizon, Deputy Chief Minister D K Shivakumar on Friday sought to play down the chatter, saying that he was neither seeking the chief minister's post nor pushing any community-driven agenda.

Responding to his meeting with spiritual leader Naniavadutha Swamiji of the Vokkaliga community, Shivakumar said Congress is his community, and all sections of the society are equal for him. "I don't want anything. I am not hurrying anything. My party will make the decision. I don't want any community angle. Congress is my community, and my love is for all sections of society," agencies quoted Shivakumar as saying.

The support for Shivakumar from sections of the Vokkaliga community, including public praise from Nirmalanandanatha Swamiji, further intensified the political narrative. Supporters highlighted his "loyalty" and "long service" to the Congress, addingto it talk of a "dominant caste group being denied leadership."

With "Vokkaliga vs Ahinda" adding a new dimension to the leadership tussle, Siddaramaiah and Shivakumar have reportedly been called to Delhi for "talks with the high command," say sources.

Shivakumar, however, said his visit to Delhi was linked to Karnataka's pending issues ahead of the Winter Session of Parliament. "Congress has a long history, and Delhi will always guide us. When they call me, the party leaders and the CM, we will go there.

"I have a lot of work in Delhi. The Winter Session is coming, and I have to meet the Parliamentarians because they have to take forward some of our projects. My CM is discussing the issues (with the Centre). There is the maize issue, the central government is not supporting or helping farmers." he said.

Further adding to the buzz is the flurry of political activities and meetings in the state over the past days, including one by the CM Siddaramaiah's "camp" in which Home Minister G. Parameshwara and Public Works Department Minister Satish Jarkiholi were present.

Parameshwara and Jarkiholi maintain that the Congress came to power due to a team effort. Meanwhile, a meeting between Shivakumar and long-time rival Jarkiholi triggered another storm.

Ladduadulteration case: SIT arrests Tirumala temple official

AGENCIES

Tirupati, 28 November

The Supreme Court-appointed Special Investigation Team (SIT) has arrested a serving official of Tirumala Tirupati Devasthanam (TTD) in the Laddu prasadam ghee adulteration case.

The SIT, led by the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI), arrested senior TTD Engineering Department official RSSVR Subrahmanyam in connection with the TTD laddu-ghee adulteration case.

Subrahmanyam had earlier served as the General Manager

(Procurement) at TTD and was responsible for procuring key materials, including the ghee used for preparing laddus, said Sarvasresti Tripathi, a member of SIT and Guntur

Range IG. The SIT produced him before the ACB Court, which remanded him in judicial custody for 15

He is the 29th accused in the case. With his arrest, a total of nine people have been held so far. He is the first serving TTD official to be arrested.

Subramanyam was part of the technical team inspecting ghee manufacturing units. He had allegedly inspected units and issued quality certificates in exchange for bribes from private suppliers.

The SIT arrested him based on the statements of some accused. These statements established the nexus between TTD's marketing wing and private dairy owners.

The SIT recently questioned former TTD chairman and YSR Congress Parliamentary Party leader YV Subba Reddy, during whose tenure adulterated ghee was allegedly used for making laddus.

The SIT also grilled former TTD executive officer A. V. Dharma Reddy on lapses during his tenure in the procurement of ghee, verification of suppliers, and quality control measures. He was reportedly questioned on how Bhole Baba Dairy, blacklisted by TTD in 2022, allegedly continued supplying ghee through proxy firms. The SIT reportedly found that between 2019 and 2024, around 20 crore laddus were made using adulterated ghee. Out of the total 48.76 crore laddus produced during this period, nearly 40 per cent were found to contain palm oil, palm kernel oil, and other chemical
